Red Likker Takes (Personal) Red Wine's Place IT'S AN OLD SAYING THAT THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING InGeorgiaChurch IS IN THE EATING . - - SO

Baptists sitting in church drinking rye whisky without so much as batting an eye or calling for a chaser was an experience recalled Tuesday by the former pastor of the church in which this unusual situation occurred.

And it all happened in Georgia and not far from Atlanta. At communion in the Cedartown Taptist church, attended by the elite of that city, in the late seventies one Sunday morning the wine cups were passed. Members after member sipped until the pastor was reached.

Dr. C. K. Henderson, now of Atlanta, sipped of the liquid—and found it red likker. Hurriedly glancing over his congregation the pious and mortified minister saw all eyes upon him and he immediately started speaking and he immediately started speaking about something—he forgets just what now—but assures everyone it was a subject as far from liquor as he could

It wasn't until meeting was out and the congregation had left the church that a soul said a word about the hitherto unheard-of occurrence. Someone, the doctor doesn't know who, had picked up a bottle of rye instead of wine.

But those who trouped into meeting souse the following communion, expected a similar miracle, were disappointed. Dr. Henderson said Tuesday. That was the first and last time whisky was served in that church, he said laughingly as he remembered the joshing following the incident.

Faithful Canine Rescues Family WinsHappyHome

"Lady," the half-year-old German shepherd pup of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Steed, 343 Holderness street, doesn't have to worry about a home now. According to her master, she has one for all time. And "Lady" appears to have deserved this consideration because she has rendered service that makes dog stories still good in fact and fiction.

Mr. Steed recently had been thinking of giving "Lady" away because she was getting too large for convenient keeping. Then something happened to make him change his mind and to recall that, after all, "Lady" was quite a canine.

Early Tuesday Mr. Steed heard something banging against the front door. He remembered then that once before "Lady" had routed a burglar; and thought the trouble might be similar. He went to the door to discover the cause of the banging and found that the house was on fire. He barely had time to arouse the rest of his family before the fire had gained such headway as to have made escape impossible.

Home Products

Southern Dairies sells to the people of the South things which are produced in the South. Those who regularly buy Southern Dairies products will at once agree they are among the very best things produced in the South.

Simply as a distributing agency, and by insisting that these home products invariably shall be of the highest standard of quality, this huge organization has more than earned the modest returns which it has collected.

It has maintained a standard of purity and quality unsurpassed in any section of the world.

But the work of Southern Dairies has gone far beyond this. Because it consistently furnishes the consumer with the best products, at reasonable prices, it has steadily increased the market for these home products.

To keep the supply equal to the demand, it has invested millions in modern, scientific plants in various sections of the Southeastern states—has established modern, sanitary delivery service-and has manned every plant with efficient local executives and workers, making them all local institutions.

These home products are handled by home forces.

The Velvet Kind Ice Cream, one of these wholesome products, is cited by competent authorities as an example of maintained purity and delicious taste. The cream and milk from which it is made come from the finest dairy farms, and the fruits and flavors are the best obtainable.

Move Begun To Give Emory $500 IN USURY CASE Control of Grady White Unit

On the eve of a meeting of council at 3 o'clock this afternoon to pass on a request for $125,000 for renovation and fire-proofing of the flame-ravaged negro ward at Grady hospital, it developed that a strong movement is on foot to turn operation of the white unit over to Emory University.

foot to turn operation of the white unit over to Emory University.

Members of the hospitals and charities committee will sponsor the measure seeking the appropriation of sufficient funds to recondition the negro unit at the council session today, and they informally are on record as favoring the change in the operation of the white unit.

Alderman G. Everett Millican, chairman of the committee, and one of the prime movers in the plan to permit Emory to operate the white unit under a similar arrangement by which the negro unit is now controlled by the university, has held several conferences with Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory, concerning the proposal, and will continue them when Dr. Cox returns to Atlanta from a short vacation trip.

Dr. Oppenheimer Pleased.

Dr. Russell H. Oppenheimer, dean of the Emory Medical college, also expressed pleasure at the movement, and declared he would assist in any way possible in working out a feasible plan whereby the people of Atlanta would benefit by the change.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Tuesday expressed himself as being in favor of any change which would react to the benefit of those who must utilize the hospital, stating that if such a plan is evolved, he would support it as far as he is able.

"If some plan is worked out whereby the condition of the hospital and the future of the poor people who must utilize the facilities it furnishes are guaranteed and improved, I would favor it," Mr. Ragsdale said. "My concern would be for those who must use it and for their comfort and use."

Divorce From Politics.

"Grady hospital should be as far divorced from politics as is humanly passible," Mr. Millican said. "From my service as chairman of the committee I am convinced of this and will work for transfer of the operation to Emory in order to eliminate politics from the institution."

While the negro unit is being remodeled, the negro wards will be stationed at the city auditorium, if wishes of the hospitals and charities committee are consummated.

An inspection of the old Walker Street school, one of the sites suggested at the special meeting of the hospitals and charities committee Monday night, showed that the auditorium would be the best place. It also was learned that the school department plans to recondition the Walker street building to open a school there next fall.

THE PHYSIOLOGY OF REST. A STUDY IN PROGRESSIVE RELAXATION.

Dr. Edmund Jacobson says in his moacgraph "Progressive Relaxation" recently published by the University of Chicago Press, that some patients learn to relax in two or three periods, while others require months to learn. Periods of instruction last one-half to one hour and take place daily or three or four times a week. In addition the patient practices by himself for an hour or two daily.

Sounds serious, docan't it? You'd naturally think that any darn fool could relax, let go, whenever he wished. But not so. For a good many invalids or near-invalids are surprisingly tense, in spots, even when they imagine they are resting; and lots of people who would resent being called invalids or near-invalids, but who don't mind being called "highstrung," temperamental, even "nervous," are just a bundle of knots.

You must understand that muscular tenseness goes with excitement and relaxation accompanies calm.

Please be scated. Chair comfortable? Yeah? Your brow furrows anxiously, one hand fidgets, you shift your legs about restlessly and twist your neck in your collar—it might be a mild case of scabies, hives or pediculosis. We'll waive that and assume you are just a little too tight, not from the Scotch in you but from poor physical education. The object is to teach you how to relax. The great god Twitch has been so exalted in the jazz age that one wonders if the mating of chorea and epilepsy would not cassure us a line of real hot babies. Be that as it may, you've reached your present sad state trying to follow the injunction laid down in that hymn to spasm "Hold Everything." All you have to learn now is how to "Let everything go."

Have you ever tried to rest on a pack bench, a billiard table or a Pullman berth? In order to relax one must be feeble-minded, drunk or dead, respectively, in these situations. And while we're on the subject of equipment, how about your own little beddy? Are you as exacting about the springs and the cushions as you

Symbolism in St. John's Life

The symbolism in the life of St. John was the theme of an address Tuesday night before Sardis lodge No. 107, at the Peachtree Road Methodist church by Jahn M. Slaton, former governor.

The meeting, which was open to the public, was in commemoration of St. John, one of the patron saints of Masonry. At other Atlanta Masonic lodges and throughout this country and England the occasion of St. John's day was observed with similar ceremonies. In Georgia the day was also celebrated as the silver anniversary of the opening of the Masonic Home at Macon.

"John had no strong friends. He simply stood for the truth. As a result he is remembered when others are forgotten." Governor Slaton said.

"The intangible things are the magnificent ones. It was so in the life of St. John."

Tracing symbolism in all human institutions, Governor Slaton declared references.

Congress Is Urged To Aid Storm-Hit Georgia Farmers

State's Congress Group VOLSTEAD ACT CHANGES Backs Larsen Bill for Appropriation of Residue of Existing Fund.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(Special.)—After receiving word from the state indicating the extent of damage caused to farms by storm conditions of last week, the Georgia congressional group today took steps to have the federal government extend temporary aid through short term loans.

To this end Representative W. W. Larsen, of the 12th district, introduced a bill, which was approved by the entire delegation, providing that the residue of the $6,000,000 fund appropriated earlier for use of farmers of the southern states in the purchase of food, seed and fertilizers, be applied to the storm area of Georgia. According to officials of the department of agriculture, approximately $1,000,000 of the fund remains.

The Larsen bill was offered after a caucus of the Georgia delegation on the situation, with Senators George and Harris participating. The two Georgia senators will work for similar action in the upper chamber to assist

An effort will be made to have the measure acted upon immediately.

Atlanta's record of 99 degrees was high enough to break all records for June 24 at the local weather bureau. Today, however, there is small chance that the June 25 record was established in 1914, when 100.1 degrees was reached.

A comparative tabulation of Monday's and Tuesday's temperatures in Atlanta shows that in the early hours of the morning Tuesday's temperature was slightly in excess of Monday's. In the later morning Tuesday's was the late that the aviators were beyond the point where boats would be needed.

The house of delegates of the association placed itself on record as opposing the veterans' and the Shepard-Towner bills, while Dr. William Gerry Morgan, president-elect of the association, told the body that it was its duty to urge certain changes in the Volstead act.

President Hoover was upheld in his opposition to the veterans' bill by a resolution passed by the house of delegates. The resolution stated that the bill was "without basis in the science and art of medicine." The resolution said that that portion of the bill which enlarges hospital facilities at the command of the veterans' bureau was "unsound and socialistic in character."

Dr. Morgan in his address, said: "It is our bounden duty to urge strenuously upon congress that there be a radical change in those parts of the Volstead act which forbid the practitioner from following his trained judgment in his ministry to the patient."

"Such a prohibition, in my judg-

"Such a prohibition, in my judgment," said Dr. Morgan, "is a reproach to our profession."

Dr. Morgan made it plain that he was taking no sides in the prohibition question, nor was the American Medical Association, he added. He pointed out that he was restricting his plea to the specific provisions of the Volstead act covering prescriptions. He said that his views were shared by a majority of the country's medical men.

shared by a majority of the country's medical men.

Dr. Morgan cited three phases of the Volstead act to which he objected. They were a clause forbiding a physician prescribing more than a pint of spiritous liquor in any ten days; the supplementary act forbidding the physician from prescribing in any like period any vinous liquor containing more than 24 per cent alcohol; and the requirement that upon the stub of the prescription shall be written the disease of the patient.

such provisions in the Volstead act, he said, marked departures from the "solemn declaration" to the states that the prohibition amendment would not authorize any interference with the use of liquor in the practice of Dr. Morgan asked "imperative acon" rather than academic disc cision in which he said the views of the association on the prohibition question as expressed in a resolution in 1917 had been misinterpreted. That resolution which stated that "the use of alcohol as a therapeutic agent should be discouraged," was followed by others strongly protesting against any congressional limitation of phy-sician's prescriptions, Dr. Morgan said.

"This could not have been done at the low cost of 63 cents a day without extraordinary management, and even with that it would not be possible except under the system of occupational therapy. The old idea of keeping the insane in close confinement has given place to the modern plan under which the insane, if not physically sick, are given suitable work, as far as practicable in the open air. This serves the double purpose of giving them wholesome exercise and diverting their minds from imaginary troubles.

"To Byron's question, 'Canst thou minister to the mind diseased?' medical science and occupational therapy are giving such a good answer that a majority of the patients recover.

"Economically this system is an immense saving to the state. The products of the farm, dairy, gardens and orchards, valued at about $100.000 last year, were made mainly by the labor of patients under skilled direction.

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint-in everything that goes to make a good automobile-you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase-"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury in an automobile collision.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fe Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its Announcement was made of the order in correction of an impression current in some counties that after July 1 seining was legal.

The legislature of 1925 made the use of seines illegal for a period of five years. The closed period expires August 26, but Mr. Twitty said that the law gives the commission of game and fish authority to extend it, or to otherwise regulate and prohibit the use of seines and nets.

"Acting under the authority of the law and on the advice of the attorney-general, the state board of game and fish at its annual meeting May 6, last adopted an order prohibiting the taking of fish from any of the streams of Georgia by means of seines, nets ands similar devices, to be effective for a period of 12 months from August 26, 1930, or until the general assembly itself takes further action," Mr. Twitty stated.

$1,000 IN CASH PRIZES FOR THE H

Reproduced, on these two pages are four auction bridge hands; the top is SOUTH or Dealer; the second, WEST; the third, NORIH, and the fourth, EAST. The play is to be at regular auction bridge. Dealer bids... others in rotation. This is the tenth of a series of twelve bridge hands, being offered to readers of The Atlanta Constitution, a different hand appearing in this newspaper each Wednesday for twelve weeks. To the contestants making the highest scores in the twelve games played, $1,000 in CASH prizes will be awarded. Please read these rules carefully so that no misunderstanding will ensue.

- 1—Hands are to be played with ordinary playing cards. The auction bridge hands reproduced above are merely to denote hands to be used by the players.
- 2—In bidding, there is to be no doubling. A revoke disqualifies the hand.
- 3—Special Tally sheets are to be used in keeping scores, and these tally sheets are issued FREE to contestants and can be secured only from the firms co-operating in this contest. There are no obligations of any kind and contestants can secure tally sheets simply for the asking. A different tally sheet is to be used each week. Go to any of the 55 firms represented on these two pages, and they will be pleased to give you a tally sheet for the week games are to be played. Get your tally sheet from a different firm each week—get acquainted with all of the advertisers on these two pages.

- 4—Write neatly and concisely just how you played your hand. This is very important. Prizes will be awarded for individual effort. Submission of answers identical in their description of the manner of play will be considered sufficient evidence of collusion and result in the elimination of any such answers from further consideration. There is a special place for writing the outline of play on the Tally Sheet.
- 5—The following is a list of prizes to be offered winners making the highest scores and offering the clearest explanation of play in this Auction Bridge Contest:

Should any contest ant winning a prize, accompany the tally sheets with sales receipts, showing that purchases were made from at least 12 of the advertisers cooperating in this contest during the time this contest is on, the PRIZES ARE DOUBLED. For example:—Should contestant be adjudged winner of First Prize of $250.00 and sales receipts from at least twelve different co-operating firms accompany the tally sheets, the prize awarded will be $500.00; the Second Prize will be $200.00 instead of $100.00; the Third Prize $100.00 instead of $50.00 and so on.

7—Do NOT send in single tally sheets . . . wait until you have all twelve, then wrap neatly, and bring, send or mail to The Atlanta Constitution, addressed to the BRIDGE CONTEST EDITOR.

8—Selection of winners will be made by Mrs. Annie Adair Foster, Atlanta's great bridge expert, and her decision on all points shall be considered final. If the explanation of play indicates that little or no attempt was made by adversaries to play their hands with ordinary skill and that as a result of such playing an abnormal score resulted, such score shall not be credited to the contestant. The best defense available must be used.

9—Readers of The Atlanta Constitution are urged to scan closely every advertisement appearing on these two pages. Each announcement is a superior value or offering and will profit the reader greatly. Do not overlook a single announcement, but read them all. And remember—when you make a purchase at any of the shops co-operating in this contest, ask for sales receipts, and send them in with your Bridge Scores, thus qualifying for a double prize. The Bridge Editor of The Atlanta Constitution will be pleased to give contestants any additional information regarding the contest, at any time. Improve your Bridge by entering this contest now

Some Toytown Stars With Famous Revue Producer

When Atlantans attend the reopening of the Paramount theater on July 4, after completion of the changes now being made in that house, one big improvement they'll note will be the elimination of two of those large stone columns in the front lobby that were so much in the way when big crowds tried to reach the box office.

Passers-by on Peachtree street noted, early this week, the huge steel girders being placed in the lobby front. These are to act as roof supports instead of the two central columns, which will be entirely done away with. This will give much more room in the lobby and add to the convenience of patrons as they enter.

While the workers are busy at the remodelling of the theater, Manager Wadkins is working hard for his opening show, which will bring "Safety in Numbers" as the screen attraction, Lou Forbes and his orchestra, three or four stage stars in the person and a couple of lovely stage productions. Chester Hale, one of Broadway's most famous revue producers, came to Atlanta-Sunday to supervise the final rehearsal of "Toytown," a revue running all this week at the Capitol theater as a benefit for the Scottish Rite crippled children's milk fund. After witnessing the first performance Monday afternoon, with 100 local children taking part, Mr. Hale said he had never found a city of Atlanta's size with so many really talented child entertainers. A few of the big cast are shown above with Mr. Hale, just after he landed from his train at Brookwood station.

Shearer, Dressler, 'Let Us Be Gay' Hits

When the Erlanger Theater Players made their first bow to Atlanta in Rachel Crothers' clever comedy, "Let Us Be Gay," several people remarked they would like to see Marie Dressler in the role of Mrs. Boucicault. Next week they can all realize that ambition. At Loew's Capitol.

For Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has made "Let Us Be Gay," on the talking screen, with Norma Shearer in the star role and Marie Dressler as the aforesaid Mrs. Boucicault. Miss Shearer is again the delightfully clever or comedienne she was in "Divorcee," and "Their Own Desire," and Marie is—well, she is Marie, which is the highest of all possible praise.

The remarkable cleverness and wit of this play about a quiet little wren of a wife who divorces friend hubby when he makes his first connubiation and who later decides that she loves him despite the forgotten sin, is transcribed to the screen with all the charm of the original play. The penetrating humor of lines and situations is brought out fully, but with sufficient left to the imagination to give it that touch of art which includes every Lieuber of the sudience in the cleverness.

There is a splendid cast, 12 addi-

TALLADEGA, Ala., June 24.—(P)
Taking the stand in her own defense late today Mrs. W. C. Mrs. Gunn testified that after they had been halted by the bandit trio her husband attempted to resist the holdup and was shot by one of three men, who then turned and fied.

unfavorably reported today by the house ways and means committee.

The bill was introduced by Representative Letissier and had the support of Governor Huey P. Long's administration. With the unfavorable report leaders expected the measure to be withdrawn.

The measure to tax newspaper advertising came in the midst of violent newspaper attacks on Governor Long's policies. It was aimed primarily at daily newspapers.

Representative Letissier, author of the bill, appeared before the committee today and amended the measure to provide a 5 per cent tax instead of 15 and to dedicate the revenue to the public school fund.

After listening to him the ten members of the committee voted unanimously for an unfavorable report.

Barnhart, Though Wild, Holds Atlantans To Score Victory.

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—Leslie Barnhart, junior member of the Pelican pitching staff, was as wild as a June bug this afternoon, but had oodles of stuff on the ball and downed the Atlanta Crackers, 9 to 1, in a game which was attended by a fairstreed Ladies Day crowd and another afternoon of het but improving weather.

clean hit, but in the seventh they bunched bingles on him and put over their lone run.

Nick Dumovich, left-hander, started against the Pels. but met the fate most left-handers have been meeting at the hands of the Pels. Jim Blakesley kept up his great batting spree by getting three safe hits, while Mike Powers, thanks to the sun and a bad hop of a grounder to Sheehan. ran his string of consecutive hitting games to 19.

Dumovich did fairly well for three innings, but had to have some pretty good support. He suddenly caved in in the fourth, however, the Pelicans batting around in a raily which sent Nick to the showers. Chet Howard went to the rescue and stopped the assault, but Howard, too, began to melt after a little and the Pelicans had little trouble running their tally of hits and runs.

GAME ON ICE.

The rally that sent Dumovich to the Birmingham tunnel (the subterrangan passage Johnny Dobbs insisted should be built at Heineman park after that memorable riot when Dobbs had the Barons here) put the game on ice. Four runs came in in that fourth before Howard stepped into the breach. Four two-base hits, two bases on balls, a hit batsman, all off Nick, and a passed ball by Polvogt and a sacrifice fly brought in those runs. Two were out and the bases full when Fred Eichrodt, who had opened the isning by hoisting out to center, ended it the same way.

In their sixth the Birds bunched three hits with two Atlanta

In their sixth the Birds bunched three hits with two Atlanta errors and registered two more runs and in the eighth the identical prescription accounted for three runs—two errors and three hits.

Barnhart was breezing along when, after disposing of Howard in the seventh, he bounced a single off Langford's bat. Langford had designs on Pete Mondino's shin guards all afternoon, but contented himself with stealing third base, and on one occasion second base, and, though held at third when Sheehan beat out a hit to short, Langford easily scored on Rosenthal's single to right. Sheehan made third on the blow, but Rosenthal made third on the blow, but Rosen-thal was sniped at second on a mag-nificent peg by Mike Powers from deep right, Montague making a fine Thet just about let the Crackers out. And as they hadn't been able to capitalize all the bases on halls they had received early in the day, the one run was the best they could do.

For the third game of the aeries Wednesday Fred Johnson, for the Birds, and Joe Keifer, for the Crackers, are the likely opposing pitchers.

Player Case Goes to Federal Court and Effect May Be Far Reaching.

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 24.—(4)
Two favorites advanced today to the quarter-final round in the singles of the national intercollegiate tennis championships as the original field of 103 was cut down to 14 at the Merion Cricket Club.

By Ralph McGill.
Those rumblings of discontent, engendered by the reign of Judge Kennesaw M. Landis, the man with the mane, have finally rumbled right into federal court.

Milwaukee, which used to be famous for its brew, has finally brewed up a quarrel with the eminent baseball jurist and gone into court. It is the most significant baseball move in years.

"You might say W. L. took that fight with one day's training," as add in one of his comparatively lucid moments.

"The boxing commissioners saw W. L. work out when he had a light treatment of novocame in his hand and decided there was nothing the matter with it. The advance sale for the show was nothing the matter with it. The advance sale for the show was so big and there were several conventions coming up later in the month to occupy the stadium, that a postponement was hard to arrange.

"We (the managerial 'we') were in a spot. It was the time to fight. We had to take a chance to get the recognition we deserved. Just on the heels of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight when all of a sudden all the heavy-weights looked mighty bad, we had a chance to get a quick knockout and win a lot of prestige.

"So W. L. and I decided that Von Porat would be looking for no trouble from the left, and that it was our big chance. We took the fight on what amounted to one day's training. The doctors completely deadened the hand. And W. L. went out with one idea in mind—to keep shooting that left at him until he dropped.

Nobody seems to think a lot of Rosenbloom as a fighter. They call him a clown. The only trouble appears to be to find somebody to lick him.

Jimmy Slattery used to outpoint Maxie on the average of once a year, but that was back in 1925, 1926 and 1927. In those days, Jimmy looked like quite a fighter, but he never took kindly to modern training and health methods. Not that Maxie is any example of strict training.

Last year, Slattery won from Rosenbloom in Buffalo and lost to him in Philadelphia. which seems reasonable enough. You will observe that these men have met so often that the style of one is ng secret to the other. This exhibition tomorrow night should be one of those farewell performances.

MACON, Ga., June 24.—Young Stribling rode into Macon this aftermoon to a hero's welcome. Macon called out the motorcycle highway patrol, the entire police force, the fire department, the entire regiment of civic clubs and two bands of music.

Furthermore, and to make the ovation authentic in every detail, all the ticker tape in the city was brought out and hurled from the top floors of business houses as the Stribling cavalcade rolled through Cherry street with grinding gears and honking horns.

Seated on the turned down top of an expensive sport automobile, in ap-proved fashion, W. L. Stribling bowed right and left and accumulated a sprinkling of confetti on his perspir-

RESTS INJURED HAND. RESTS INJURED HAND.

He wore neither coat nor hat. His blue shirt clung damply to his massive shoulders and swelling biceps. His bronzed right arm was waved now and then to friends or used to fend off the clinging strips of ticker tape. His left arm was encased from hand to elbow in a heavy plaster cast. It rested on his lap, evidence that his injured hand was not feisned and that he had used a crippled fist to knock out Otto Von Porat, the hard-punching Norseman, in Chicago.

It was a whole-hearted, enthusiastic demonstration these Macon folks staged for their adopted son. In the wide street, that for the day was a palpitating bake oven with heat that approached 100 degrees, they stood hatless and coatless to wave at "Strib." # Dempsey Passes 35th Milestone; Talks of Return

LOS ANGELES, June 24.—
(AP)—William Harrison Dempsey passed the thirty-fifth milestone of his eventful life today, showing unmistakable signs of a yearning to do something definite about emerging from ring retirement. He may surrender to the yearning next spring.

"I would like to fight Primo Carnera," said the former heavy-weight champion. "Such a battle should gross two million, and there are only two places where such a fight could be staged—Chicago and New York.

"Sure, I get offers every day, but if some one could promise three-quarters or even half a million as my share, I might take a shot at it.

"All depends on whether I can get in shape. I wouldn't mind fighting Max Schmeling for that matter... if I could get in condition,"

Pat Boynton, manager of Buchanan and several other well-known Georgia boxers, and now on a business trip to south Georgia, revealed that Buchanan has already been signed to a contract by Charley Scheirs, Cincinnati promoter, and that the Ohio promoter is seeking to match the Georgia welter with the former champion in Cincinnati on the night of July 28. It is probable, Boynton says, that Fields will agree to the bout. Boynton is confident that Buchanan can "take" the former champ. If Buchanan meets and defeats Fields he will have placed himself in the front rank of the welterweights, since the former champion is still rated among the best in his class.

ANOTHER SUCCESS.

Besides Buchanan, another of Boynton's fighters is in Cincinnati and has been billed for three fights, two of them main events, during the coming month in the Ohio city. Sammy Crosby also a welterweight and stablemate of Buchanan, was kept from fighting during the past mouth by an injured hand, but his scrap with Jack Purvis, of Cincinnati, Monday night won him admirers among the ringworms of the Ohio city. Crosby will fight three times more during the coming month.

Boynton and both of his fighters are former residents of Waycross, Ga., but the former Waycross manager is now billing his boys from Atlanta. Which is no insult to Atlanta, since Buchanan's performance in his three previous fights in Cincinnati have won him the praise of boxing experts and the cognomen, "the Atlanta Assassin." Buchanan has fought three times during the month that he has been in Cincinnati, and has won all three fights by fairly wide margins. PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—(P)
The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission took prompt action today as a result of last night's flasco in which George Godfrey, the giant negro, fouled Primo Carnera and lost the fight to the huge Italian.

After Godfrey admitted to the commission that he had unintentionally delivered a low blow in the fifth round, the commission revoked Godfrey's license to appear in Pennsylvania rings and cut his purse of $10,000 in half.

According to his contract, Godfrey was to receive $10,000 for the 10-round bout, but the commission paid him for only the five rounds in which he appeared. The other $5,000 was turned over to the state treasury. Carnera received his full purse of $43,641.

Carnera also was a sufferer today nt the hands of the commission for something with which he had nothing to do. He, his managers and the whole Carnera stable of boxers were suspended pending a further hearing on a row that occurred in Carnera's dressing room before Primo appeared at the Phillies ball park.

Godfrey told the members of the commission he had not the alightest intention of fouling Carnera. He said he had planned his fight by attacking Carnera's body so as to weaken him and then put on the finishing touches. Godfrey said that Carnera is a "nice" fighter but that he cannot hit. WIMBLEDON. England, June 24.

(P)—Continuing a parade through the English tennis championship field, the United States today landed seven of its ranking men stars in the third round and advanced three of its women representatives to the accord in the play at Wimbledon.

Without losing a set. Bill Tilden, George Lott, Johnny Doeg, Berkeley Bell, Johnny Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison and Gregory Mangin easily brushed aside all opposition. The women invaders from across the Atlantic were not so fortunate. Mrs. Helen Wills Moody came through as expected along with the youthful Sarah Palfrey, of Boston; Mary Greet, of Kansas, and Elisabeth Ryan, but Miss Edith Cross, of San Francisco, fell before the devastating drives of Mile. Josane Sigart. Belgium's No. 1 ranking player, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

YOUTH SHOWS REAL PROMISE OVER COURSES

Dixie's Youngsters, Losing. Battle to Age, Fought Gamely.

Although age finally won out over youth in the recent southern amateur golf championship at the Sedgefield Country Club course in Greensboro. N. C., the youngsters put up a merry hattle all the way and gave promise of future conquests.

No less than 20 linksmen—either in their 'teens or early twenties—produced low enough scores in the qualifying round to reach the first division and the initial day of match play left eight in the championship flight.

Two of the youthful niblick swing-play left eight in the championship flight.

Two of the youthful niblick swingers, Fred Webb, of Shelby, N. C., and Earl M. Stokes. Jr., of Louisville, Ky., swept through to the semi-finals before bowing to more seasoned campaigners.

Webb, who has been playing golf but a short time and made his first bid for fame last year by winning the Carolinas junior tilte, proved one of the sensations of the 28th annual quest for Dixie's premier links honors.

Hitting his shots from the port side, the sun-tanned kid turned back veteran after veteran before falling before the new champion, Emmitt Spicer, of Memphis.

In his last duel Webb saw Spicer pile up a lead of four holes at the start but the Carolina lad took a new grip and stifled down to battle his older adversary to the finish line.

Three down at the 14th, Webb displayed his gameness again by shooting par golf to win the next two holes and halve the third, for a Spicer to the last green before he could put the match in the win column.

The tow-headed Stokes left his high school graduating class at Louisville to show the old timers some real golf before he lost to Tully Blair in the next-to-last round.

Unheralded and practically unheard of, Stokes kept stabbing away at parand eliminating one opponent after another. He was off to a good start in his last set-to and had Blair three down at the turn, but encountered trouble on the in nine while Blair tightened to pull the match out of the fire.

tightened to pull the match out of the fire.

Carl Dann, Jr., the 20-year-old Orlando entry, led the parade over the 18-hole qualifying route, establishing a new course record of 68, two under par. However, he lost out, in the final round of match play to a 17-year-old Atlantan, Berrien Moore, who advanced to the semi-finals before drawing the par-cracking Spicer.

Another young Atlantan who drew praise from the galleries was Julius Hughes, city champion, who won the second flight championship from Johnny Bachman, of Sedgefield, after losing his first match in the championship division to Frank Dudley, of Athens, Ga., one down at the 20th green.

Wilbur Oakes, Jr., son of the well-known professional at Chattanooga, was runner-up for medalist honors with a 72 shot over the rugged terrain during the intermittent rains. His consistent play carried him to the quarter finals before he lost to Stokes.

England, turned back Miss H. M. Brooke, of England, 6-2, 6-3.

TOUGHER FOES.

From now on the Americans will find tougher competition. In tomorrow's play Bell meets Henri Cochet, of France, the defending champion, while Allison plays Lyttleton Rogers, the lanky Irishman.

Doeg is scheduled to try his southpaw drives against the Frenchman, Christian Boussus. Mangin will play Miki, veteran Japanese star.

At least one American will be eliminated when Van Ryn opposes Tilden on the center court. Lott, who today displayed the best all-round game the Chicagoan has ever shown at Wimbledon, finds an experienced opponent in Harry Hopman, Australia's Davis cup star.

Jean Borotra reaches the third round only after five hard-fought sets with H. G. N. Lee, British Davis cupper. The scores were 5-7, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Speedway Draws Well-Known Stars

Atlanta automobile racing fans will see four drivers in action Sunday afternoon on the Atlanta Speedway on Pace's Ferry road who have participated in the annual 500-mile Indianapolis speedway race. It was announced Tuesday night by George Hamilton, owner of the track, that Chester Gardner, of Denver, Col.; Babe Stapp, of Los Angeles, Cal., captain of the Deusenberg team; Johnny Seymour, of Indianapolis, and Herman Schurch had wired their entry and are en route here.

Schurch participated in the two spring events here and holds the world's record of 23 2-5 seconds for the half-mile circular track. He was relief driver for Shorty Cantlon, who finish second in the 1930 Indianapolis race. Schurch took the wheel at the 53rd lap and after driving 200 miles gave the car back to Cantlon in second position, which was held throughout the remainder of the race.

Gardner was the first casualty at Indianapolis but suffered only body bruises when his car hit the wall on the first lap. He will drive Deacon Litz's Deusenberg.

Seymour is holder of the straightway motorcycle record, made at Dayton Beach three years ago. He is

BIG MUSCLES

Dick Daviscourt Is Not other champions Worried by Milo Steinborn's Great Strength.

Dick Daviscourt, the ach villain of the ring, wants to know where Milo Steinborn got the idea that he was the strongest man in the ring.

The big Californian, who is one of Atlanta's favorite wrestlers, thinks that he is as strong as Steinborn. At least he is willing to match his strength with him. They meet Thursday night at Spiller field.

To see Daviscourt and his 220 pounds in action is to see a real cave-man thriller. In hiz match here with Charley Fox some weeks ago Daviscourt hurled his big body through the air to grab Fox. Fox ducked and their heads met with a crash that could be heard far back in the stands. Both men were out for more than 10 seconds. When they were able to resume the match Daviscourt mustered enough strength to win the first fall.

The big fellow appeared to be in St. Anvier, North Carolina and Pennsylvania each have one.

Sam Perry, 'he southern intercollegiate champion, after scoring 87 yesterday, was in grave danger but he pulled his game together today and turned in a snappy 78 to qualify with several strokes to spare.

Those who qualified:

Kepler, Ohio State 83-84-167 Hoobert H. Kepler, Ohio State 83-84 Daviscourt has passed the former champion now.

Steinborn, who is really practically invincible for an hour or so because of his strength, is eager to get back in the graces of the fans. He lost his last matches here, but the fans still like to see him. If he can lift the big hulk of Dick Daviscourt and throw it about the fing he will do something that appears to be beyond the limits of human strength. And he may do it, because there are few men his peer today.

Mat iams are cager to see the annual Capital City Country Club trophy. Black played a spectacular game to defeat Charley Dannals, Jr., 2-1.

Black won his way to the title through a hard road and disposed of some clever golfers. Dannals also played consistently to win all of his preliminary matches. Dannals defeated Charley Black, the medalist, in the first round of play and eliminated Henry Grady, Jr., Sunday afternoon in a semi-final match.

THE BUNKING GOES ON. When you read the news from Hoylake last week as Jones won an ionship there was no mention of the word "foul" anywhere

When you read the news from Wimbledon this week it is a certainty that you will read nothing about Cochet or Tilden or anyone else winning or losing on a foul.

If you follow baseball you may read about fouls, but they will not be the brand delivered below the belt.

But if you go to see a fight or read about a fight it is almost a certainty that you will bump into the same sordid, morbid story once more wherein the show broke up with another belt in foul

It has come to the point now where the public knows pretty well that a foul is going to break up the show so there can't be a lot of sympathy for those who insist on getting trimmed, week after week, for so much per trimming. You can lay any odds you want that unless for so much per trimming. You can lay any odds you want that unless a "foul check" rule is passed, or some other measure equally effective that will guarantee a performance it is only a matter of brief time before either state legislatures, or the public on its own hook, will close out the modern farce known as the fight game.

If any fight fan goes to see another so-called contest without the guarantee of a foul check or a return match, minus any further pay, in the case of foul, he should have his head examined.

Unless, of course, he likes to take it on the chin far more than any fighters now around like to take it.

The crowd at least should know what it is going to get. If it likes fouls for its money there is no squawk coming. If it doesn't care so

The big fellow appeared to be in better shape than ever. Shortly before coming to Atlanta Daviscourt and Ed Lewis met in a match which went two hours and 15 minutes without a fall. Lewis used to be able to win a victory now and then, but Daviscourt has passed the former champion now.

The crowd at least should know what it is going to get. If it likes fouls for its money there is no squawk coming. If it doesn't care so much for fouls there is no legislation on the books forcing anyone to pay money in order to see one fighter nail another below the belt and look on as the other starts writhing and rolling along the floor.

ABOUT CARNERA.

How good is Schmelling? How good is Sharkey? How good is Car-

How good is Schmeling? How good is Sharkey? How good is Carnera? No one actually knows as the boys can hardly restrain themselves before a foul rap is planted and the party is turned into a guess.

Who can tell how good a 100-yard man is at 50 yards—or 40 yards? There has been no contest likely to prove anything except the public's amazing love of punishment.

But as far as the Carnera-Godfrey show went Monday night the blg

But as far as the Carnera-Godfrey snow went Monday hight the Bug Italian looks to have too much physical stuff for any fighter now around. George Godfrey, weighing 250 pounds, hit him with everything he could throw and most of his punches landed solidly. Yet Carnera was looking better at the start of the fifth round than he looked in the first. If the punches that Godfrey planted failed to shake him up, how could a men his peer today.

Mat ians are cager to see the semi-windup which brings Paul Jones in against George Tragos, the hardboiled Greek who has won his two matches here this season. Jones, a great favorite, is being brought in to satisfy the demands of fans who want to see Tragos lose.

These hard-boiled wrestlers are all right," said Promoter Weber, "but they give me a great deal of trouble. I bring one in and the fans don't like him. Then I have to get busy and get someone to beat him. If Jones can't beat Tragos I don't know what I will do."

The Texan, who uses the hook scissors to win his big matches, is one of the finest physical specimens in the ring today. He is also one of the most popular men.

Tickets are gaing well at the Can.

The season are cager to see the semi-windup who has been the semi-windup who he had good to barke him up, how could a sharke him under 200 pounders

It is hardly possible that Max Schmeling, now the heavyweight champion, could last six rounds against him. Certainly not ten. Schmeling couldn't hurt him and he could hurt Schmeling plenty. And if he didn't Schmeling or almost any other 185 or 190-pound opponent would drop from exhaustion before ten rounds. He was able to move and shove Godfrey around with his hands and Godfrey at 250 is no puffball.

But as the next contest will probably end in a foul there may be no chance to prove his case one way or another. Or the status of any other modern heavyweight. Not as long as they get paid for the terrible stuff

ANNISTON, Ala., June 24.—(P)—Jack Mooney, of Atlanta, defending champion, and Wilmer Hines, of Columbia, S. Mooney, who drew a pass to the second round and beat Dr. George Matthews, of Birmingham, in that contest yesterday, today turned back Robert Lake, of Birmingham, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, to advance to the fourth round.

Hines won from Ed Newell, of Chattanooga, 6-3, 6-4, today after drawing a first round lege.

MOULTRIE, Ga., June 24.—Following a survey Tuesday of the area in Colquitt county that was scourged Saturday by a wind and hailstorm unprecedented in size and consequences in this territory, Harold Baker, field representative of the American Red Cross for Georgia, said all of the crops on 6,000 acres of land had been completely destroyed, and the crops on 3,000 additional acres had been damaged from 40 to 60 percent. It is one of the heaviest producing areas in the state and the crop damage in Colquit county alone is estimated at $250,000. Two hundred families were found in need and they will be aided by the Red Cross.

The extent of the rehabilitation work that is to be done by the Red Cross will not be known until Mr. Baker, who has wired a report, receives instructions from the national headquarters of American Red Cross. For First Time at Marriage The chimes of Oglethorpe University were played at a wedding for the first time last evening when Miss Anne Saffold, of Atlanta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Miss Margaret Stovall, who has frequently played the chimes at the university to the delight of passers-by, played "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me," for the unique ceremony. The "Lohengrin" wedding march was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's bridal chorus as the recessional.

Plans and ferns which banked a picturesque recess in the founders' room of the university formed an attractive improvised altar before which Dr. Jacobs performed the ceremony. The marble lecturn which occupied the center of the room was garlanded with ferns and greenery and offset with a handsome epergne of gardenias.

bargained for. Yes, sir, I got more than I bargained for. Well, Mrs. Muskrat can't catch me and I'm glad she can't. I wouldn't like to be very near her when she is in such a state of mind as she is now."

Of course Mrs. Muskrat didn't chase Peter far. No one could know better than she how useless such a chase would be. She merely wanted to work off a little of her anger and to perhaps give Peter a little fright. So presently she turned back, dived into the Smiling Pool and went back to those precious babies in the snug house in the bank.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

"So you were just knocking for Jerry!" snappr! Mrs. Muskrat, and her voice was very harsh and angry. "So you were just knocking for Jerry! It is a wonder you didn't thump a hole in the roof. You need to be taught a lesson, Peter Rabbit. I have more than half a mind to come up there and teach you one right now."

Peter backed away hastily as Mrs. Muskrat began swimming toward the bank "I-I-I-m sorry, truly I am," said Peter. "I wanted some one to talk to and I thought Jerry was probably in there asleep and that he would come out if I thumped."

"Well, Jerry wasn't in there, but I was!" sputtered Mrs. Muskrat. "I was, and so were my babies. It was enough to frighten them half to death. How would you like to have some one come thumping over the heads of your babies, Peter Rabbit? How would you like it?"

"But I didn't know there were any babies," protested Peter. "How was I to know? I wouldn't have frightened them for the world. Jerry hadn't told me that you had any babies."

"The glad Jerry has sense enough not to be telling our private affairs to everybody," said Mrs. Muskrat. "How-ever, that is no excuse, Peter Rabbit. No excuse at all. You had no business to be thumping on that roof."

By this time Peter was beginning to feel a little provoked. "This bank is free, so far as I know," said he. At bottom she was much too wholesome to entertain a cheap vanity, so she did not waste time in an extended inventory. She knew she had a medium-sized, well-shaped head covered with the sort of golden-tinted anburs hair which so many women attempt, but which few achieve. Catty tirls often said of Roberta's hair that a chemical analysis would develop a trace of henna in it, but this was not true and even her detractors knew it. She had the sort of rich creany skin that goes with such hair; her eyes brown and eyelashes were darker than her hair, their luxuriance conveying a hint of Celtic blood.

Her eyes, large, brown and a triffe slepy, owing to her acquired trick of an impressionable male tottering on its throne. Her nose had just escaped being, suubby and was tilted at sogentle an angle as to confer upon her face was in repose. She had a short, beantifully curved upper lip—which storable malformation permitted much too easy a display of even, hard white teeth. Her lower lip was full, tender and just a shade wilful. Roberta's was no sad, gentle, resigned, wise Mona Lisa smile; it reminded one of the flash we a heliograph. Her chin was full and aggressive, her body sheautifully formed, lithe as a cart's and suggestive of abounding health and much outdoor exercise.

As a matter of fact, Roberta did possess a temper readily aroused, but she had the say and grace of refusing to admit it extended to the brown eyes, a more meticulous graciousness, an infinites mall lift of the firm chin were the signs Crooked Bill had learned to associate with squalls from that quarter, and for her repression he loved that was in her, was the only human being her had been much too angry to do that. BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor. CHICAGO, June 24.—(P)—Report-a fresh jolt to the wheat market today, knocking prices down 4c a bushel. Predictions were current that a big movement of Nebraska wheat would soon develop, and fears were expressed that with no adequate outlet a material increase of the United States visible supply in the near future would result in elevator and railway congestion. Closing quotations vere at the day's lowest level, and were also under any records since 1914.

Wheat finished unsteady 3 3-8 to 4c a bushel below yesterday's close. Corn showed to 1 3-8c net decline with oats 1-8 to 1-2c down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

Fading away of active buying power here characterized the wheat market today, rather than any unusual pressure to sell. Undermining confidence of would-be purchasers were indications that the marketing of newly-harvested wheat in the southwest is not being restrained to any notable extent by talk that farmers are holding their wheat. Meanwhile, the wheat market here was being bearishly affected also by an indifferent response which the trade at Liverpool made to yesterday's price advances on sponse which the trade at Liverpool made to yesterday's price advances on this side of the Atlantic. Cheap offerings of United States wheat abroad were a reason assigned, but late estimates were that North American export business today, 1,250,000 bushels, consisted not of United States wheat but nearly altogether of wheat grown in Canada.

in Canada.

Advices of further timely rains benefiting crops in Canada counted as an additional influence toward lower prices for wheat, and so likewise did word of uninterrupted favorable conditions for harvesting of domestic winter wheat and for growth progress in the United States spring crop belt. Depressing factor was announcement that Canadian millers had reduced the price of bran to the lowest point ever known.

Corn, oats and rye went lower chiefly as a result of sympathy with wheat weakness. Rye as well as wheat dropped to new battom prices. Provisions advanced notwithstanding downturns both in the value of hogs and of grain as well.

JACKSON BROS., BOXSEL & CO.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Renewed selling in the grain market which carried prices to pre-war levels checked what promised to be a continuation of the Monday rally in the stock market. The rail averages dropped below the panic levels of 1929. The industrial averages went somewhat below last week's low but are still about 10 points above the November, 1929, low-point. Professional. operators on the bear side are aiming at the panic lows in the industrial group, believing that a breaking of this resistance point would bring about renewed general liquidation in securities.

Judging from observation it was not commission house marginal sedling which forced yesterday's break in the stock prices.
Professionals brought out large lines and were aided by the liquidation of some large blocks of high-grade investment securities.
This commentated selling for long account had the appearance of, heing investment, trust selling. So far as Wall Street commission houses are concerned, loans are nearly $400,000,000 lower than they were at the low point in November, 1929, and this suggests that further urgent selling need not be expected.

LONDON.

Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Raw sugar was steady today with limited offerings of duty frees and store sugars at 3.24 and 3.27 cents. Buyers were offish and the sales reported were of 25,000 bags of Porto Rican for prompt shipment to a refiner at 3.27c and 48,000 bags of Philippine to a refiner at 3.24 delivered. An additional 25,000 bags of Porto Ricans for August and September shipment was sold at 3.3. It was first notice day for July tandees and 37 were issued. They were slow in finding receivers but without influence upon the course of market values. The opening prices were unchanged to 1 point lower, but active covering by July shorts gave an upward impulse to prices on the near deliveries right after the call and stiffened the whole list, although the trading in the later months was almost entirely switching. Around midday the market turned quet and showed some nervousness, prices reacting slightly here and there, but toward the apd on renewed short covering and buying of September by a trade comulsation house believed to be unhedging raws it hardened again and closed steady at about the top for the day.—

Building Increases

TAMPA, Fla., June 24.—(P)—F.

TAMPA, Fla., June 24.—(P)—F.

W. Dodge Corporation, in a statement published here today, says new buildings constructed in Florida last month exceeded those of last April and of May, 1929. The total valuations given were: May, 1930, $13,248,900; April, 1930, $3,871,200, and May, 1929, $5,400,600.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Prices held fairly well in early trading Tuesday and at one time in the morning went above their highs of Monday. But there was a lack of carry through even when the market was stronges at and when acute weakness developed in the rails around the middle of the day the whole market began to weaken and sold off rapidly in the last half hour so harmony the work of the last half hour so further dips tomorrow would in many cases turn out well, we do not think that selling for an hour or two such as was seen Monday many stocks closed at or close to their previous lows of the year.

This again leaves the technical position weak and while we think stocks bought on further dips tomorrow would in many cases turn out well, we do not think that selling for an hour or two such as was seen Monday morning would clear up the situation satisfactorily aly more than it did then. We would rather wait for real evidence of a completion of the present period of liquidation which seems not unlikely to appear in the quite near future.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Cotton values gare way moderately and slowly Tuesday owing to belated liquidation in July and selling of other months induced by weakness in grain and reaction in stocks. Trade interests were the chief buyers with enough demand from this source to hold the decline within moderate proportions, most of the pressure was on July and that position was the easiest.

Estimates of the holdings of the farm board in July now are as-high as 280,000 to 300,000 hales. The board is expected to demand delivery on its entire holdings, but is not expected to compete for the notices when issued as they did for those lasmed in May. but is not expected to compute tices when issued as they did for those issued in May.

Rumors are current that some of the spot houses will take up cotton tendered in New Orleans to enable them to make delivery to the farm board in New York.

Liquidation of the rails, many of which went to the lowest levels in several years, went forward persistently in the afternoon after publication of figures showing that net operation and bethlehem Steel quickly equaled their year's lows, established last week, and American Can came within half a point of duplicating its previous minimum. Final prices were virtually at the bottom.

Steel Operations Decline.

There was a bit of surprise in the weekly operating ratio of United States Steel. Standing at a fraction above 71 per cent, compared with 72 per cent in the preceding week, the rate represented a smaller reduction than had been anticipated, especially since schedules have been cut. The favorable showing was accounted for in part by the extent of business for immediate delivery.

Independent producers were reported to be working at around 61 percent of rated capacity against 64 percent a week ago, while the average for the entire industry was estimated at 66 per cent, or about 2 percent lower. At this time two years ago this average was 73 per cent.

Wall Street read with interest a statement by Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the board of Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company, of Chicago, who said there would be no resumption of business "in any comprehensive way" until commodity prices reached bottom." That, he added, would depend on world conditions and on America's rate of production.

It resulted from an investigation by the commission into a complaint by Virginia interests that North Carolina state rates on goods described were discriminatory against interstate business.

"We find the rates on these articles (cotton piece goods, hosiery and knitted products) in less than carloads from Norfolk to points in North Carolina on and east of the Richmond division of the Seaboard Air Line between the Virginia-North Carolina state line and Norlina." the commission's findings said, "the Portsmouth division of the Seaboard Air Line between Norlina and Raleigh, the Norfolk Southern between Raleigh and Fayetteville, and the Atlantic Coast Line between Fayetteville and Wilmington, are unduly prejudicial to shippers at Norfolk and unduly preferential of shippers at Charlotte. Greensboro, Salisbury, Durham and Winston-Salem to the extent that the rates from Norfolk exceed those from Charlotte, Greensboro, Salisbury, Durham and Winston-Salem to the territory of destination above described for like distances."

Melons Reaching Atlanta Markets

Nine carloads of the south Geor-gia watermelon crop had reached At-lanta prior to noon Tuesday—the first lanta prior to noon Tuesday—the first of the 1930 crop. Growers in the melon belt in the southern part of the state expect to receive $2,000,000 for shipment by July 15 or soon thereafter, according to reports received by the state bureau of markets.

It was learned Tuesday that more than 200 cars were being loaded with melons at shipping points in south and southwest Georgia.

Official recognition was given Tuesday to the opening of the season with the issuance in Thomasville by the United States department of agriculture and the state bureau of markets of the daily news service to water-melon growers.

The state last year shipped 21,881 cars of melons from which a revenue of $3,531,000 was received. With favorable weather conditions prevailing over the belt in the next few weeks this total, according to predictions, may possibly be reached again. Estimates now, however, place the value of the current crop at a smaller figure.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Peach shipments have increased rapidly to 725 cars, according to a bulletin issued today by the bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture.

Georgia furnished 610 cars, and Unifornia. North and South Carolina and Texas contributed the others.

TEXTILE LEADER SEES REVIVAL OF BUSINESS

SALEM, Mass., June 24.—(P)—An optimistic business outlook was held today by Brnest N. Hood, treasurer of the Pequot mills, at the meeting of the board of directors. The board deciared a quarterly dividend of $2 per share payable July 1 to stockholders of record June 24.

Hood predicted that the textile industry, particularly in wide sheetings, would improve in the next few months. "The country has passed through a major panic, but it is now generally recognized that recovery is already under way," Hood said.

opened irregular, sold off some in the first hour, recovered in the second hour and then again became irregular with selling of rails. Copper shares were soft in the early trading under the leadership of Anaconda which declined further in view of the dividend meeting scheduled for this Thursday.

Anaconda has been paying $7 dividends since copper sold at 24 cents early last year. A cut to $4 or $3 is expected.

Trading tbday in stocks was light. For the first half hour the volume was only 307,000 shares against 790,000 yesterday and 1,000,000 recently.

Banks here belonging to the New York clearing house announced today that interest on deposits will be reduced. Time deposits were excluded. Time deposits were excluded. Time deposits were excluded and savings banks deposits now get 2 per cent interest. Deposits payable within 30 days now get 11-2.

There was another cut of 1-8 of 1 per cent today on bankers' acceptances. Call money on the stock exchange floor renewed at 2 1-2 per cent and dropped in the noon hour to 2, the lowest since the middle of March when there was a large accumulation of funds here for income tax payments.

trade. Practically all of Norfolk & Western's earnings come from soft coal hauled to industrial centers. For the first five months of this year to the end of May, gross of $42,846,000 reported today compares with $45,817,000 for the corresponding period of 1929. That is a decrease of 6 per cent. After paying operating expenses and fixed charges the surplus for dividends of $11,999,000 compares with $14,163,000 for the first five months of last year. That is a decrease of 16 per cent. For May alone the decrease in gross is 13 per cent and in the surplus for dividends 30 per cent.

Poor Income Prompts Selling.

Railroad stocks were sold on poor carnings statements. Northern Pacific reported for May gross of $6,667,000 against $8,154,000 a year ago with net at $550,000 against $1,411,000. For the five months gross of $31,000. For the five months gross of $31,000. Union Pacific and other roads made unfavorable earnings statements. Railroad officials reported the movement of traffic for the country as a whole at the smallest volume since 1924.

Considerable talk is being heard in the financial district to the effect that within the past few days there has been some taking over by strong banking interests at private sales of weakened stock accounts. There are good reasons for believing that there is foundation for these reports. The position of the stock market is strengthened when stock passes from weak to strong hands at private sale. Usually it means that disfress stock hanging over the market for what it will bring, usually declining prices.

Wheat and cotton failed to held the gains made yesterday on the statement by the head of the federal farm board that the ability of co-operatives to finance this year crops with private banks through the intermediate credit banks would make it unecessary for further appropriations from the $500,000,000 of the first five months of the year, Norfolk hands would make it unecessary for further appropriations from the $500,000,000 of this revolving fund in its efforts to stabilized farm product prices; also that these operations of the government have more to do with the threatened government deficit than the proposed veteran bill. July wheat sold lower today than at any time since 1914 when the World War started and for

Ezra E. Phillips, George A. Eckford and Luther Still Make Statements.

Two candidates for the Georgia legislature from Fulton county—Ezra E. Phillips and George A. Eckford—Tuesday declared they were misunderstood in the remarks they made last Saturday regarding a city wide vote for nomination of council members instead of adhering to the old custom of ward nominations in the primaries. In addition, Luther Still, also a legislative candidate, issued a statement upholding the present system.

Mr. Phillips is opposed by Jesse B. Simmons, Johnny J. Jones and William G. McRae, while Mr. Eckford is opposed by Bond Almand, Swift Tyler, Jr., and Virgil Adams. Mr. Still is opposed by J. O. Wood, Don Johnson and Mack Hicks.

Phillips' Statement.

Phillips' Statement.

Text of the Phillips statement follows:
"In an editorial in The Constitution of June 25, entitled 'Save Time and Trouble,' it is stated that all the Trouble,' it is stated that all the candidates for the legislature except Mr. Luther Still and Mr. J. O. Wood have declared themselves as favoring a primary election law which will require a councilman from any ward in the city of Atlanta to be elected by a vote of the entire city. Such is not my position. When The Constitution reporter asked me over the telephone about my position on electing councilmen in the city of Atlanta by a city wide vote I told him I favored this method. I did not mean to say that I favored this method for primary elections. I do not favor a primary elections. I do not favor a city wide primary to nominate coun-cilmen from a particular ward. I be-lieve the voters in each ward should select their own councilmen. Let a city wide vote elect or select the aldermen. The councilman is the immediate representative of his own ward, and the people of his ward look directly to him to represent them and minister unto their special needs. "It could be urged with just as much reason that members of the general assembly should be selected by a state wide primary as it can that councilmen of a city should be selected councilmen of a city should be selected this way. Such a method on reason could go so far as to provide that United States segators should be selected by the entire nation by a nation wide primary. The city wide primary for councilmen for the various wards kills and throttles the right of local covernment.

for councilmen for the right of local self government, a right so dear to all of our people.

"It is all right to have a city wide election, but not a city wide primary. I can readily understand why there should be a city wide election. I can imagine a situation where some particular ward might at some time in the future be composed largely of negroes, and in such a case they could by virtue of holding the majority of voters control, and thereby elect a negro to council. But with the plan I favor this can be taken care of by electing the nominee of the white primary held in the particular ward. But I say let the nomination be made by the white voters of the particular wards.

"Let me say, therefore, that if I am elected to the legislature this year I will oppose any bill which has for its object the making of the democratic white primary city wide in the selection or nomination of councilmen in the city of Atlanta. I will oppose it if for no other reason, because it it, if for no other reason, because it virtually means that a citizen of limit-ed means could not finance a city wide primary campaign for council-man, especially in view of the com-pensation of the office. But above all alse, local self government is else, local self government is the worst stone of democracy and is the worst enemy of centralized power, the thing we all so much dread.

"I am sorry my position on this proposition was misunderstood, and trust that I have made myself clear about it."

Still Statement.

Text of the Still statement follows: "In Sunday's Constitution I promtive to the city-wide primaries in the of councilmen and other of selection of councilmen and other of-ficers. I hereby go on record favor-ing the present system of electing councilmen by wards and am in hearty accord with the city democratic ex-ecutive committee in its recent action in the premises. I deem this fair to every ward.

every ward.

"I am firmly of the belief that the people of each ward should have the right to choose their own representatives, and if elected to the legislature will resist any effort to change our present method of holding city primaries.

primaries.

"While it is true the charter provides for a city-wide regular election, which protects us from any possibility of negro domination or threatening independent action that is seeping from certain sources, this charter provision has nothing to do with the regulation of our primaries. with the regulation of our primaries.

"Again repeating: I am absolutely in favor of each ward selecting its

"Our humane institutions would be played with by designing and cheap city-wide politicians. I am glad that the rest of the candidates are seeing the light, and am satisfied they will all be on the band wagon before the campaign is closed.

"I am for the wards to exercise their right. No further doubts exist." Eckford Statement. Text of the Eckford statement is as

From the context of your editorial this morning under caption 'Save Time and Trouble,' it is evident that eandidates for the legislature, favoring the nomination of councilmen by the city at large, rather than by wards, as at present. I wish to correct this. "When your reporter called me and eaked if I would support such a measure. I told him that I had given the matter no thought and could not commit myself. She saw a tall, broad-shouldered man riding in from distant fields, she saw herself waiting to greet him with an armful of fresh-cut roses from the bushes that flanked the little rustic gate before her. All this she knew was gone, wiped out by the torches and bullets and hatred of these hideous and degenerate men. With a stifled sob she turned back into the tent and throwing herself upon her cot sobbed forth her misery until kindly sleep brought her relief.

Gene Hinton

day night was elected president at the organization meeting of the new Air Corps Troop school, held at the reserve corps officers' headquarters in the Red Rock building. Major R. K. Greene, of the regular army, and in charge of organized reserves in this territory, presided. Other officers named were Captain Frank Estill, of Gulf Coast Airways, Inc., vice president, and Captain Robert E. Lee Cone, secretary and director of publicity. Organization proceeded with the formation of two standing committees, the executive and the school committees, the first-named group is to consist of the officers of the organization, while the school committees, t

Talks by Orval Porter, chief mechanic for the Blevins Aircraft Corporation, and William A. Dunlap, secretary of the Aero Club of Atlanta, were features of the session. Dunlap, speaking on "Ayiation Current Events," dwelt principally on the forthcoming national air races, to be held at Chicago, August 23 to September 1. He pointed out that the elaborate program which has been arranged is expected to celipse in interest even the Cleveland affair of last year and called especial attention to the fact that the famous Dornier DO-X would fly the Atlantic to be on hand for the festivities. Porter, former chief mechanic for Sir Hubert Wilkins on the latter's flights to Alaska and the south pole region, described a few of his sensations and experiences in the icy wastes. Incidentally, Wilkins' ship during the Alaskan expedition was the famous "Southern Cross," scheduled to reach New York this morning under the guiding hand of Kingsford-Smith.

The program for the next meeting of the school, set for July 9, will feature parachutes and mail flying, Sanders announced at the conclusion of Tuesday night's session. A parachute expert from Candler field and a mail pilot for one of the three companies operating at the airport will be scheduled for addresses, it was stated. The Air Corps Reserve hangar is nearing completion at Candler field and with the arrival of the new flying equipment, activities should get under way in a short time. Lieutenant Raymond R. Brown, air officer for the Fourth Corps Area, stated Tuesday that the Atlanta base, as a starter, probably would get two new Curtiss Falcons, to be brought here from the Curtiss factory at Buffalo, and two new Consolidated PT's, these probably to be ferried here from Wwight Field, Dayton, Ohio. The PT now in the army hangar will be returned to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, as soon as the new equipment arrives, it was said.

Bill Cumming of Donaldsonville, but operating out of Rome this summer, arrived at Candler Field Tuesday morning in his OX-5 Kreider-Reismor Challenger to take his rating test for single-engined open planes betweet for Inspector Jaynes, of the department of commerce. Lease of the Peachtree street and North avenue corner building recently purchased by J. G. Dodson to the First National bank for a north side branch, was reported Monday, contingent upon sale to the lessor of a nearby corner owned by the bank.

The combination lease and sales transaction, involving $375,000 in aggregate rental over 30 years on the North avenue and Peachtree corner, and approximately $100,000 for the lot owned by the bank, together with report of an offer by Asa G. Candler, Jr., for the Bonaventure Arms apartments said to be in excess of $250,000, featured realty activity for the week.

Reaching Atlanta late Tuesday afternoon after a 36-hour, all-air trip from Los Angeles, with a night out for sleep, H. G. Ballance, southern district manager for Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, now is more than ever convinced of the airplane's preeminence in the field of modern transportation. Mr. Ballance, who went to the coast some time ago on business, boarded a transport plane of the Western Air Express in Los Angeles at 9 o'clock Monday morning, and reached Dallas about dark of the same day. Early Tuesday morning he climbed into one of Delta Airlines' monoplanes and arrived at Candler Field late in the afternoon. Mr. Ballance, an aviation enthusiast, has been taking flight instruction from the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service. apartments said to be in excess of $250,000, featured realty activity for the week.

The First National bank in leasing part of the Dodson building plans to utilize this corner for location of the office now operated on the opposite corner, abandoning its earlier tentative plans of building on the Peachtree and Linden streets corner lot, the report stated. The bank had purchased the latter corner about a year ago and its sale now to Mr. Dodson is contingent upon the lease of the Dodson building for the branch bank. Candler's reported offer for the Bonaventure Arms, seven-story and basement structure located at Ponce de Leon and Bonaventure avenues, is subject to approval of the New York federal court, which passes on the property of the defunct Miller Finance Corporation. The original bond issue on the building, which has a gross rental income of $56,000 annually, was $475,000.

The apartment was listed for sale by the bondholders' committee at one time for $340,000. It is thought probable that Mr. Candler's offer will be accepted.

Beeler Blevins, of the Blevins Aircraft Corporation, is to fly his company's Lycoming-powered Stinson Junior to Decatur, Ala., this morning on a business trip, and is slated to return late this afternoon. Blevins stated that the Candlers' transcontinental flight—from Atlanta to Los Angeles—would be started as son as weather conditions are favorable between here and the Pacific coast. The Lockheed Wasp Vera which will be used for the proposed dawn-to-dusk two-stop hop has been put in perfect condition by Orval Porter, chief mechanic for the company. Bonds Asked for Six Men Held for Murder

Application for bond for six white men who were indicted Tuesday on a charge of murder of Dennis Hubert, negro college student, will be heard by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, within the next few days. No bond petition has been filed for the seventh defendant, Aubrey Sikes, who is said to have fired the shot which killed Hubert.

Judge Moore held a short session Tuesday afternoon on the bond petition, and decided to take the matter up Thursday and either begin trial of one of the defendants or go into the matter of bail. The defendants are T. L. Martin, Tom Berryman, J. G. Garvin, M. W. Harmon, R. H. Evans, "Fat" Wilson and Sikes. The slaying is said to have happened on June 15 after the negro had insulted Garvin's wife.

15 after the negro had insulted Garvin's wife.

The defendants are represented by Attorneys H. A. Allen and Ellis B. Barrett. Allen said Tuesday that the defense will seek to prove that Hubert was being held for the police by the defendants when he attacked Garvin with a knife. Sikes thereupon shot the negro, Allen said.

"As I understand it, the wings hit a hedge and the ship turned over. The plane had been attached for a gasoline bill due from the Davis Air Lines. I am going to have a thorough investigation made," Smith said.

According to Davis, permission to take the plane into the air was refused by Roberts field authorities.

Davis stated today that the ship had been attached in the belief it belonged to the Davis Air Lines, but that he obtained its release on the grounds it was the property of Winship Nunnally, of Atlanta.

Made by Army Officers

nission to take off.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 24 .-

SCOTT FIEID, Ill., June 24.—(A)
An instrument for blind flying with which two army officers have been experimenting for several months today enabled Captain William C. Ocker, one of the inventors, to pilot a plane approximately 900 miles from San Antonio, Texas, to Scott Field,
Ill., from a covered cockpit that afforded no view of the outside world.
He was accompanied, and part of the time aided, by Lieutenant C. J.
Crane, co-inventor, who occupied an open cockpit as a safety pilot. Their destination is Washington, D. C., where they expect to fly tomorrow
after stopping overnight at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

Captain Ocker, who termed the trip an unofficial test, said he experienced no great difficulty in today's flight, but that a few times he strayed from his charted course and had to be righted by Lieutenant Crane. Both Ocker and Crane said they believe the device will prove a success for blind flying.

It is a flight integrator, a modelairplane mounted on the instrument board. It combines the functions of a bank indicator, inclinometer and turn indicator.

The fliers took off from Brooks

a bank indicator, inclinometer and turn indicator.
The fliers took off from Brooks
Field at 5:02 a. m., and Captain Ocker piloted the ship about 400 miles directly over the Hatbox Field at Muskogee, Okla., for their first scheduled landing. Crane brought the plane to earth.

An altitude of between 3,000 and 5,000 feet was maintained throughout the trip. Weather conditions were excellent and the fliers were favored by a strong tail wind.
